

Careers in Agriculture, Food, and Natural Resources

Agricultural Education is an important industry in Illinois. It has a major impact on the State's economy and the industry is eager for additional potential employees in the pipeline to fill the demand for hundreds of careers.

|                                   |                               |   |                             |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------|---|-----------------------------|
| Livestock Producers               | Food Scientists               | Grain Operations                            | Waste Water Plant Operators |
| USDA Inspectors                   | Agricultural Economist        | Livestock Buyers                            | Golf Course Superintendents |
| Fish & Game Officers              | Microbiologists               | Soil & Water Specialists                    | Veterinary Assistants       |
| Farmers & Ranchers                | Wildlife Managers             | Pollution Prevention and Control Managers   | Farm Investment Manager     |
| Equipment Maintenance Technicians | Feed and Supply Store Manager | Environmental Compliance Assurance Managers | Information Lab Specialists |